Latin America Labeled As Next Trouble Spot

This week's World Affairs Institute speaker, Watson S. Sims, discussed the coming crisis in Latin America.

Sims, a substitute for William Ryan, Associated Press correspondent who was detained in Viet Nam, is news editor, World Services Division, of the AP.

Sims quoted Gen. David Shoup, Marine Corps Commandant, as saying that if the Marines are called to fight, it will not be in Viet Nam but in Latin America.

This year, four governments have been overturned in Latin America: Guatemala, Ecuador, Honduras and the Dominican Republic, and there is the threat of more falling before the year is out.

"The only time Latin America has pulled together," Sims said, "was during the Cuban crisis. Since then, disunity has set in again."

What Is Wrong?

What is wrong in Latin America? "Not enough to eat and not enough clothing to wear," he said. The per capita income in many Latin American countries is less than $100 per year.

There are now about 210 million people in Latin America. In the year 2000, there will be approximately 600 million people, or the same number of persons Red China has now.

This is the coming crisis in Latin America. How will these people be fed and clothed?

Touching on the Alliance for Progress, a major undertaking of the United States, Sims said "It isn't working very well."

This alliance was expected to attract investment capital to Latin America but is failing to do so. "Scholars say the theory of the plan is sound," Sims said, "but in practice it just isn't working out well."

Baldwin Speaks

Last week's World Affairs Institute speaker, Hansen Baldwin, military editor of the New York Times, spoke on "Arms: The Race and The Control".

Baldwin said the political and psychological potential of the nuclear test ban treaty outweighs the military risks it could impose upon us.

"One of the reasons Russia desires a peace treaty at this time is their economic situation," Baldwin said. "Another is the rift between them and Red China."

According to Baldwin, we are not opening a chapter to a brave new world, merely a change in Communist tactics.

Bond Next

"Civil Rights and United States Leadership in Emerging Africa" is the topic of next week's World Affairs Institute speaker, Dr. Horace M. Bond.

Dr. Bond will speak at the Omaha University auditorium next Wednesday at 8:15 p.m.

Presently in Africa, he will return to the States on Oct. 22 for his speaking engagement here on Oct. 23.

Purdue Dean Speaks At OU Founders Day

An early investment in education would benefit the millions of senior citizens who are unprepared for their retirement years, said former Purdue University Dean Dr. George E. Davis on Oct. 11.

The former Dean of the College of Adult Education predicted a future retirement age of 50, and pointed out that "only with the needed preparation for enjoyable life after retirement can one accept age with thankfulness."

Investment

"There are millions spent for defense in America," observed Dr. Davis, "but there is not a good investment in education for adults whose educational opportunities have been limited."

He stressed the fact that an education is a lifetime process, and not something that stops with your high school diploma.

Dr. Davis spoke at the 55th annual Founders Day program which honored Dean Emeritus Everett M. Hosman. He likened Dean Hosman to the gardener in Rudyard Kipling's poem "The Glory of the Garden."

"Dean Hosman sought the timely jobs," he concluded. "He worked on to find himself the partner in the garden. Now that he is finished, he can wash his hands, and the glory of the garden shall not pass away."

"C.Q."

Omaha University Alumni President Thomas Moore presented a painting to the University in honor of Dean Hosman. The painting, "C.Q.", was painted by John V. Blackwell, head of Omaha University's art department, and it will hang in the Epley Conference Center lounge. Moore explained that the title "C.Q.", in amateur radio terms, is a general call to anyone who will answer. He thought that it was especially appropriate in that "Dean Hosman sounded the 'C.Q.' for adult education in Omaha, and the city responded."

Dr. Robert Naylor, Pastor at the First Methodist Church, paid tribute to Dean Hosman as a church leader, and Dean William Utley of the College of Adult Education honored him as an educator and founder.

Banquet

Founders Day activities began with a noon luncheon for Dean Emeritus Everett M. Hosman. Close friends and relatives were invited to the banquet which was held in the Student Center Ballroom.

A reception and coffee hour, at which Dr. George E. Davis spoke, was held at 3:30. Over 600 people were invited to the reception, including officers of student organizations and members of the staff and faculty who had known Dean Hosman previous to his retirement in 1953.

NOTICE

"Grain of Sand" deadline is October 25. All copy is to be turned in to the English office, 317 Adm., type written and double spaced.

Anyone enrolled in, or having had a Geography class is eligible to join the Geography club. The club will meet at 3:30 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 24, in rooms 311-312 in the Student Center.

Jim Bagli, President of the club, announced that a Mr. Larson will give a talk on "Nebraska and Its Hamlets." Guests are welcome to attend any of the monthly functions.

Student Directories will be given out today from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. in the check room on the first floor, behind the information desk in the Student Center.

The directories (one per student) are free with presentation of an activity card.

150 Pints Needed By OU Students For Blood Drive

Omaha University's annual Red Cross blood drive swings into high gear Monday and Tuesday with the signing of applicants.

A booth will be set up in front of the bookstore in the Student Center and will be open from nine to three on Monday and Tuesday.

You must be 21 years of age or have your parents permission to give blood.

The campus will be divided into organizations with the object of competition in mind. Individuals giving blood should remember to state where credit should be given for the donation. A trophy will be awarded to the winners in both the men's and women's groups. However, any person may donate without stipulating credit for it.

Accepted applicants must sign up for a specific time to give blood on Wednesday. The third floor of the Student Center will serve as donation headquarters and doctors and nurses will be on hand throughout. The clinic will be open from nine in the morning until around four in the afternoon.

OU Annual Migration Scheduled Tomorrow

Omaha University's annual student migration is slated for Saturday's football game at Emporia, Kansas. However, according to Dean of Student Personnel Don Pflasterer, students must provide their own transportation to and from Emporia.

"Only the band, the cheerleaders and the Indians will go by chartered bus," Pflasterer said.

"Over the years we've averaged over 200 students at migration," he said. "And last year we had over 400."

Various fraternities and sororities have always sent delegations on migration. They usually stay overnight in their respective houses on the school's campus," he added.

Issues '63 Starts With 'Red Light'

Omaha Public Safety Director Chris Gugas was the guest yesterday as Omaha University's "Issues '63" began its second season.

The program began with Mr. Gugas being asked for his side of the controversial story concerning the use of red lights on motor vehicles other than authorized police or fire cars.

The Safety Director said that there is a state law which prohibits the use of such lights on anything other than an emergency vehicle belonging to some unit of government. He noted that the problem is now being studied by the city legal department.

The Safety Director was queried as to the steps his office would take concerning the Citizens Co-ordinating Committee for Civil Liberties.

He said he agrees with the cause of the committee, but not with their techniques. He said he believes the 4-CL should work in cooperation with the Mayor's Bi-Racial Subcommittee.

Panel members yesterday were seniors Bill Brand, Roger Prai, Allan Johnson and Dick Fletcher.

"Issues '63" is a cooperative effort sponsored by the Radio-TV Department and the Department of Journalism.

According to Pflasterer, the first officially sanctioned migration was in 1947. A group of students traveled to Doane College that year.

Over the years, Pflasterer said, "migration has been held fairly regularly. One year, he recalled, "the student body didn't make the scheduled trek because of bad weather, so they migrated one winter weekend to an away-from-home basketball game."

Students who want tickets must get them at the Emporia stadium. According to OU Athletic Business Manager Harvey Vogler, Emporia State is reserving a block of tickets for Omaha U.

Students can get a ticket for 75 cents and their activity card. Faculty members can get tickets for $1.50 and their activity card. Game time is 2 p.m.

On a more sober note, Dean Pflasterer concluded that since the game is on Saturday, NO ONE will be excused from Friday classes because of migration.

CO-ED OF THE WEEK

The GATEWAY "Co-ed of the Week" is right at home with a palate, brush and easel. She's 18-year old Betsy Rasmussen, a freshman majoring in art. Betsy enjoys creative hobbies such as painting, sculpturing and bird watching.

Our co-ed is a Zeta Tau Alpha pledge and a 1962 graduate of North High. Favorite pastimes are football games, pizza and her 1937 Ford Coupe which she built from old parts.

The GATEWAY is published weekly by students of the Omaha University Department of Journalism. Editorial comment and signed letters to the editor are not necessarily representative opinions of the faculty, administration or student body.

EDITORIAL VOICE

FRESHMEN'S FRIENDS

The smiles were back on campus Wednesday and so were the words: "Hi—you a freshman—voted yet—remember John Stereotype."

From the sleepy hours of the morning till nearly three in the afternoon, a frosh never had so many friends that were glad to see him. Safety was only assured when inside the yellow markers.

This was just one of many "popularity contests" held on campuses across the nation.

The entire concept of the term TYPICAL FRESHMAN is out of line with the basic American idea of individuality. It amounts to another instance of regimentation—good old-fashioned conformity. "Be like me, I'll be like you, and history will never remember us."

Now we realize that "popularity contests" are an integral part of campus life, and cannot be done without. One reason—to appease the band of houseless "joiners" on the campus. We don't advocate discrimination against any minority group, but at least we may be able to save the grass next to the sidewalks in the future.

The troops in East Berlin never came up with better ways to block passageways. In fact, the whole idea, we think, has so alienated students on our campus that its no wonder that voter turnouts are so meager.

Since the combined number of votes cast equals approximately the total number in organized campus groups, it would be less nauseous if the whole operation were made inter-group. This would make it possible for the entire campaign to be carried on in the back-half of the OUampi Room, and would alleviate congestion on the sidewalks and wear and tear on the non-joiners nerves.

Another solution to the problem—and one that proved successful on another campus—The entire freshmen class was assembled on a certain day, usually the day before the elections were held. At this assembly, all those vying for offices or titles would appear before the entire class and present their appeals and pleas singularly and smoothly.

Each candidate was thereby seen and heard by all who would vote on the issue.

But since this is not the case at this time on our campus, pick up your cross and don't worry, you will have another group of friends that will be glad to see your misinformed, unorganized, non-joining silhouette.

Campaigning for allschool "popularity contests" will get rolling within two weeks, and there'll be more smiles, handshakes, words and trampled grass.

Alumni Form Plans For OU Celebration, Climaxed by Dance

Co-chairmen for the Alumni "OU-bilee" celebration were announced this week. They are Mr. and Mrs. Demeral Andrew. Andrew graduated in "57", and his wife, the former Marsha Wetzler, in "59."

The celebration is called "OU-bilee" celebration, rather than just jubilee celebration to put emphasis on the QUalums. Extensive plans have already begun to take shape for the day.

The Waokiya Alumnae are planning a dessert coffee for their alumnae. It will be held in the Conference Center lounge and will last from 12:30 to game time.

In order to encourage more alumni to attend the homecoming game, free babysitting is being provided by the Alumni Association. Cartoons and games will be provided for all of the children in the Library Conference Center Lounge.

The climax of the day's celebration will be a dinner dance. The pow-wow party, as the dance is called, will be held at the Omaha Athletic Club.

Recognizing the growing importance of graduate education, the Board of Regents, in October, 1962 established the College of Graduate Studies as the sixth College of the University of Omaha.

TV Instruction Aids Teaching

Over 120 future elementary and secondary teachers received mimeograph machine instructions over closed circuit TV last Wednesday and Friday.

Mr. John Pearson, manager of the Stenographic Bureau, used the Radio-TV Department facilities to demonstrate the operation techniques of the duplicating machines.

The two days of instruction consisted of making a spirit master and a mimeograph stencil; then placing them on the ditto and mimeograph machine and reproducing them.

Knowledge of duplicating machine operation is part of the Secondary Education-Methods Class. Mr. Pearson and the class teachers, Dr. Herbert Jones, Asst. Prof. of Secondary Education, Mr. Wayne Glidden, Inst. in Secondary Educ., Mrs. Doris Tabor, Asst. Prof. of Elementary Educ., and Mr. Robert Ackerman, Instr. of Elementary Educ., thought that the course could be more effectively taught if they used TV.

Old Method

Under the old method, six to eight students were scheduled to go to the Stenographic Bureau for instruction. With 10-12 groups passing through the bureau each week, much confusion was created.

Mr. Pearson said that when the students crowded around the machine it became difficult to demonstrate properly. With the TV method each student could see what the instructor was showing and could also take notes which was very hard under the old method.

Throughout the program, students were given a chance to ask questions. After the program was over, Mr. Pearson went to the class to answer any further questions.

The Stenographic Bureau, room 148 of the Adm. Bldg. produces duplicating materials for all departments on campus and does offset printing such as brochures and pamphlets.

Marston Presides At Engineers Meet

Col. Anson D. Marston, chairman of the Omaha University Engineer department, attended a regional engineer society meeting held downtown last weekend.

Col. Marston presided over the technical sessions of the Society of American Military Engineers.

He is president of the Omaha chapter.

Meeting Tonight

Lee Alberson, a civil engineer with a local consulting firm, will speak to Omaha University's Civil Engineering Society tonight.

The meeting will be held in Room 312 of the Applied Arts Building at 7 p.m. and is open to the public.

Alberson will speak on "The Computers Future in Civil Engineering." The Engineer is head of his firm's computer section.

Foreign Books To OU

The Gene Eppley Library has been selected by the Library of Congress to receive English language publications from India, Pakistan and the United Arab Republic.

The program is sponsored by the Library of Congress but the publications will come from the various countries.

The Library will receive 20 books a year and will be eligible to take subscriptions to some of the periodicals and the most important English newspaper in each country.

Letters To The Editors

Help?

The members of Waokiya, the senior women's honorary, recognizes the problems brought about by election.

True, every time when elections roll around there is an onslaught of handshaking, back slapping, and similar well known tactics.

True, some of the same people end up in the winners circle time after time.

True, some are cute.

We agree that elections need spirit and the student body should want to see the qualified people win the responsible positions. It is a shame that Omaha University's talented independents don't give the Greeks some outside competition. But they don't have an organization behind them and it is difficult for an unsponsored candidate to win.

The women of Waokiya have discussed the problem and have come up with an idea that may help solve some of the unrest concerned with electioneering.

October 28 we are sponsoring an election rally and caucus. At the rally each candidate will be introduced individually. Election procedures and rules will be explained. After the rally the candidates will be in the SC Ballroom to talk personally with any student interested in meeting them on a face-to-face basis.

We feel that elections should be fun . . . not a who can stump who the most effectively. It should be remembered that everyone running for a position will be campaigning. The difference is that at the caucus and rally it will be done in the open.

Mary Beth Meyers
Waokiya Secretary

Humph!

To paraphrase Mark Antony: "Friends, Students, Countrymen, lend me your ears. I come not to praise the election system on campus but to bury it!" It is my opinion (for what little that matters), and the opinions of many of my unaffiliated friends (this may count for more), that the election system on campus is "for the birds."

What chance has any unaffiliated student to be elected to ANY office on campus? The organizations that could possibly help oneself win an election are the fraternities and sororities. But now, I ask, can one retain one of these organizations when said organizations have their own candidates.

By the way, can anyone tell me of anyone who is holding a student office on campus who is not a member of a "frat" or sorority? I repeat, what chance has anyone to win an election against the "Shouting, Rabble Rousing 'social' organizations on campus?"

Larry Hicks

Patach Elected VP Of Nursing League

Miss Dorothy Patach, Director of Nursing at Omaha University, was elected vice president of the Nebraska State League for nursing.

The election took place at the bi-annual convention held in Lincoln Oct. 10 and 11.

The Nursing League promotes better care of patients by improving nursing service and education methods, Miss Patach said.

It is the only nursing organization which lay people may join.

Parking Permit Problem, Stickers Go One Place

Attention, students! Those parking permit stickers are supposed to go on the left rear bumper of your car in plain view.

A number of autos have been observed around campus with permits displayed on windshields, rear windows and on side glass.

If these permits are not properly located, the car owner is liable to a $1.00 fine for an improperly located parking permit. Also, any car with a mutilated permit will be liable for a ticket.

Until this week, no tickets were given out for this offense, but, from now on, cars with improperly located permits may find a ticket parked on their windshield.

When putting the permit sticker on the rear bumper, it should be placed preferably by the bumper guard for protection. If placed on the side of the bumper or on the corners, it may become scraped off.

All a driver has to do to replace a damaged permit sticker is go to the Student Personnel office, Adm. 240, and obtain another one free of charge.

Signal Turns

Also, drivers, please signal your turns on campus. Campus policemen say that student cooperation would be appreciated if drivers leaving the east entrance of the parking lot by the Adm. Bldg. would signal their turn.

With two lanes of traffic merging into one, traffic has sometimes snarled up because of drivers failing to do this one simple thing.

In fact, it's to the point where a campus policeman has to direct the traffic leaving the lot.

Drivers can also be ticketed for failing to signal their turn on campus.

Candidates for degrees with departmental distinction must (a) have attained an average of 2.62 in their previous work and an average grade of 3.25 in courses in their major field. (b) be recommended by the head of the dept in their major field.

Grain Of Sand Editor Named

Roger Laub has been named editor of the "Grain of Sand".

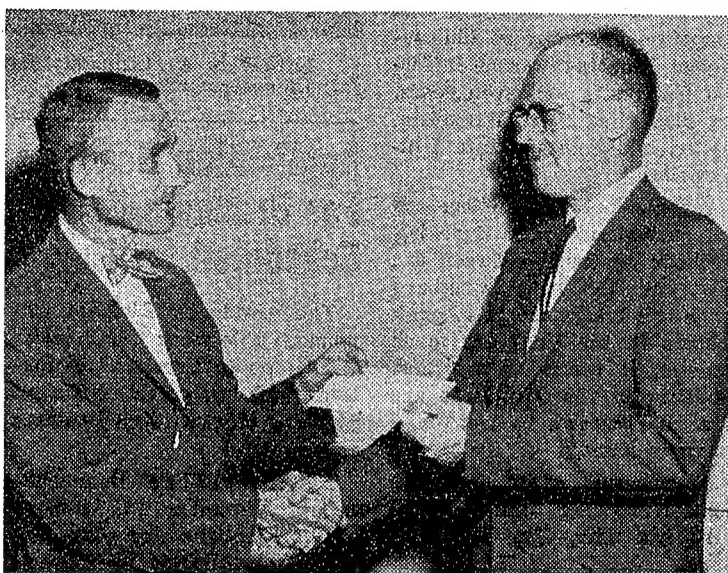

Dr. Ralph Wardle started the publication 12 years ago.

"I wanted to give the writing students a chance to see their work in print. It gives them encouragement," said Dr. Wardle.

Poems of 40 lines or less and short stories and essays of 2,000 words or less are preferred. "However longer works may be considered," added Dr. Wardle.

A contest is being held in the high schools. The winners will have their work printed in the "Grain of Sand" and receive 50 dollars toward tuition.

All copy turned in to the English office, 317 Adm. must be typed and doubled spaced. The deadline for turning in work is Oct. 25.

Dr. James Peterson (right), OU Music Dept. Head, receives music award.

Dr. James Peterson Receives $100 Award For New Composition

Dr. James B. Peterson, head of the Music Dept. at Omaha University, is the winner of the 1963 Chamber Music Award of $100 for an original composition for string quartet.

The competition was open to persons living in the 10-state area of Nebr., Iowa, Mo., Kan., Okla., Colo., Wyo., S. D., N. D. and Minn.

The award is a gift of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Kennedy of Omaha. Mrs. Kennedy is chairman of the Joslyn Chamber Music Series, which opens its 16th season on November 3 with a concert by the Amadeus Quartet of London.

Debate Team Treks To Ia. For Practice With 3 Other U's

Omaha University and Iowa schools: Drake, Iowa State, and Simpson College participated in practice debates at Ames, Iowa, last week. Eight students debated on the topic, "Resolved that the federal government should guarantee an opportunity for higher education to all qualified high school graduates."

The students from OU included: Stan Zuerling, Dave Cowdy, Elaine Grossman, Roni Meyers, Bill Stillmoeck, Ed Reicks, Don Sanders and Larry Hicks.

Dr. Peterson has been on the staff at OU for 10 years. A native Omahan, he received his PhD in Music Theory and Composition from the State University of Iowa, Iowa City. Dr. Peterson is active in music organizations and is currently national president of the Music Teachers National Association, which has 12,000 members.

Entries in the contest were judged with the composers' identities unknown. The judges were members of the Fine Arts ensemble, which has performed on the Joslyn Chamber Music Series since 1947. Members are Emanuel Wishnow, who is chairman of the Department of Music at the University of Nebraska; Miss Priscella Parson, of the music faculty at the University of Nebraska; Truman Morsman and Max Gilbert, members of the Omaha Symphony.

Mr. Wishnow said of the entries, "We all felt so very sincerely that the compositions were of very high order. The standard and the writing and the competence evidenced by the composers who submitted their works were so very well above anything that we expected."

Dr. Peterson's winning entry becomes a part of the Joslyn Chamber Music Library, and will be performed at Joslyn later in the season.

Pen and Sword Elects Officers

An election dinner dance was held at the Prom Town House by the Pen and Sword Society on Oct. 5th. A slate of Junior officers was elected to provide continuity for the organization.

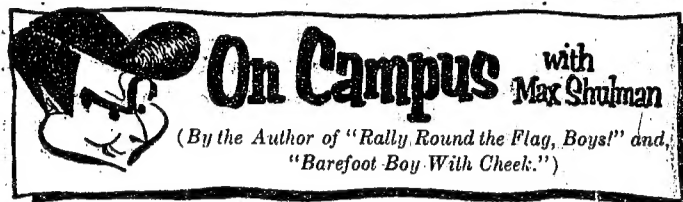

The new Executive Council includes: Vice President: Vernon Haywood, Administrative Secretary: Mike Connolly, Social Secretary: Barbara Moran, Treasurer: Houston Vernon, Public Relations Officer: William Gilchrist, Special Activities Secretary: Jack Anderson, Intramural Activities Secretary: Robert Shuford.

Education Honorary Sets Date of Initiation

Kappa Delta Pi, education honorary, will hold its annual initiation tonight. Over 30 juniors and seniors who have met the requirements will be installed.

Plans will be made at this time for a tea to salute National Education Week. The group at the movement has 30 members.

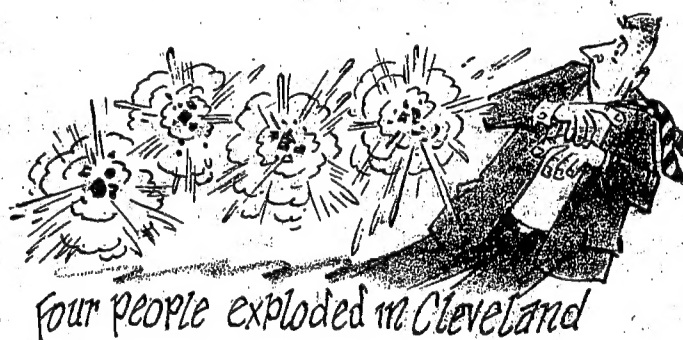

Requirements for acceptance include a minimum of a 2.9 grade average, and from six to 12 credit hours in education courses.

BOOM!

Today, foregoing levity, let us turn our keen young minds to the principal problem facing American colleges today: the population explosion. Only last week four people exploded in Cleveland, Ohio—one of them while carrying a plate of soup. In case you're thinking such a thing couldn't happen anywhere but in Cleveland, let me tell you about two other cases last week—a 45-year-old man in Provo, Utah, and a 19-year-old girl in Northfield, Minnesota. And, in addition, there was a near miss in High Point, North Carolina—an eight-year-old boy who was saved only by the quick thinking of his cat, Fred, who pushed the phone off the hook with his muzzle and dialed the department of weights and measures. (It would, perhaps, have been more logical for Fred to dial the fire department, but one can hardly expect a cat to summon a fire engine which is followed by a Dalmatian, can one?)

But I digress. The population explosion, I say, is upon us. It is, of course, cause for concern but not for alarm, because I feel sure that science will ultimately find an answer. After all, has not science in recent years brought us such marvels as the maser, the bevatron, and the Marlboro filter? Oh, what a saga of science was the discovery of the Marlboro filter! Oh, what a heart-rending epic of trial and error, of dedication and perseverance! And, in the end, what a triumph it was when the Marlboro research team, after years of testing and discarding one filter material after another—iron, nickel, tin, antimony, obsidian, poundcake—finally emerged, tired but happy, from their laboratory, carrying in their hands the perfect filter cigarette! Indeed, what rejoicing there still is whenever we light up a Marlboro which comes to us in soft pack and Flip-Top Box in all fifty states and Cleveland!

Yes, science will ultimately solve the problems arising from the population explosion, but meanwhile America's colleges are in dire straits. Where can we find classrooms and teachers for today's gigantic influx of students?

Well, sir, some say the solution is to adopt the trimester system. This system, already in use at many colleges, eliminates summer vacations, has three semesters per annum instead of two, and compresses a four-year course into three years.

This is, of course, good, but is it good enough? Even under the trimester system the student has occasional days off. Moreover, his nights are utterly wasted in sleeping. Is this the kind of all-out attack that is indicated?

I say no. I say desperate situations call for desperate remedies. I say that partial measures will not solve this crisis. I say we must do no less than go to school every single day of the year. But that is not all. I say we must go to school 24 hours of every day!

The benefits of such a program are, as you can see, obvious. First of all, the classroom shortage will disappear because all the dormitories can be converted into classrooms. Second, the teacher shortage will disappear because all the night watchmen can be put to work teaching solid state physics and Restoration drama. And finally, overcrowding will disappear because everybody will quit school.

Any further questions?

Yes, one further question: the makers of Marlboro, who sponsor this column, would like to know whether you have tried a Marlboro lately. It's the filter cigarette with a man's world of flavor. Settle back and enjoy one soon.

Dr. Burkholder Is Added To OU Teaching Staff; Assists Education Grads

College of Teacher Education students are drawing knowledge from an interesting and highly qualified addition to the Omaha University faculty. Dr. Kenneth Burkholder is teaching School Administration to Education graduate students.

Dr. Burkholder works primarily with full-time teachers. Consequently, his classes are held at night and on Saturdays. Throughout the week he supervises cadet teachers at Omahaschools.

Dr. Burkholder came to OU after nearly 20 years at Omaha North High School. He was Principal there 11 years and spent eight years before that as North's Assistant Principal.

Dr. Burkholder earned his B. A. Degree at Midland College, Fremont, in 1932. He was awarded his Masters Degree from the University of Michigan in 1937. His graduate work was done at Creighton and Columbia, Missouri, Teachers College. In 1959, he received his Ph. D. from the University of Nebraska.

Reflecting on his past, Dr. Burkholder remembers with pleasure a two page spread in "Colliers" magazine about North High at the time he was principal there. The article was entitled: "An Ideal Educational Institution."

Dr. Burkholder's wife, Beverley, was graduated from Knox College in Galesburg, Illinois. When he met her, she was teaching at Omaha Benson High school.

Dr. and Mrs. Burkholder have two children. Peter, the oldest, is a Phi Beta Kappa. He graduated magna cum laude from Harvard in 1962. He now attends graduate school at Tulane, in New Orleans, and plans to teach philosophy. The other son, Roger, is a sophomore at Harvard.

The Omaha educator has traveled extensively in Europe and Mexico. He has been a member of the State Accreditation Committee for six years.

French Major From Morocco

Joseph C. Bouganin, a student at Omaha University, has the distinction of living 12 of his 18 years in Casablanca, Morocco.

After 12 years in Morocco, he came to the United States in 1959. He has lived in the cities of New York, Harrisburg, Tucson, Philadelphia and Omaha. He has traveled extensively in Europe, and just returned from Spain where he was visiting his step-father stationed there with the Air Force.

His step-father being in the Air Force has been one of the reasons for his travels, besides the fact that Joseph enjoys traveling. He feels his traveling has made him a better person, and that he has acquired experience and knowledge.

Joseph is planning on spending four years at Omaha University, where he will be majoring in French. After graduation he would like to be a French interpreter in the American Embassy in Paris.

Of all the places he has lived, he likes Philadelphia the best. This is because the historical significance of the city is still present. He also feels that people in the East are more friendly and hospitable.

Joseph has both praise and criticism for Omaha University. He feels the school is constructed beautifully and is one of the best universities he has seen. His complaint is with the high cost of text books.

The only comparison Joseph made between the educational system in Morocco and the United States, was that in Morocco education is more cut and dried. There was also much more emphasis placed on class discipline.

Joseph is very pleased with Omaha. He thinks the city is a modern and beautiful city. His only real complaint so far has been with the weather, which doesn't remain stable.

Anderberg Named Philosophy Head

Associate Professor of Philosophy, Clifford Anderberg, has been named Head of the Philosophy Department. He replaced Dr. Wilford Paine, who has gone into partial retirement.

As head of the department, Anderberg plans to develop a major in philosophy in the near future; however, plans towards this are as yet incomplete. He feels that by obtaining a degree in philosophy, entrance to graduate school would be much easier.

Anderberg was born in Twin Rivers, Wisconsin. He attended the University of Wisconsin where he obtained the following degrees: B.A. in History, M.A. and Ph.D in Philosophy.

Before coming to the University of Omaha, Anderberg was Associate Professor of Philosophy at Washington and Jefferson University for seven years. He also taught in Wisconsin, Drake, and Kansas State Universities.

When asked what differences in curriculum and teaching methods he found between the East and Mid-West, Anderberg made this statement, "Although schools in the East are much smaller, it seems to me that students in the Mid-West are just as receptive to ideas and eager to learn."

Anderberg's extra interests include reading and boating with his wife, Peg and son, Gary.

New Chairman For Retail Dept.

Leonard Prestwich has replaced Hurford H. Davison as the chairman of the Retailing Department at Omaha University this fall.

Dr. Prestwich received his Ph. D from Ohio State University, his Masters Degree from New York University of Retailing and his Bachelor's Degree from Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah. His last position was chairman of the Marketing Program at George Washington University in Washington, D. C.

He also taught at Alabama's Auburn University, Ohio State University, Brigham Young University and at the University of Utah.

Prestwich said he's pleased at the reception he has received at the university and is impressed by the retailers he's met since coming.

Mr. Prestwich added that OU has a much better business program than most schools. "Not many universities have a business program separate from the other colleges," he said.

Professor Davison initiated OU's retailing program in 1948 to meet the needs of Omaha merchants for better trained people able to assume executive responsibilities.

Application Deadline For Graduate Exam Scheduled for Nov. 1

The Graduate Division announced this week the dates of the Graduate Record Examination which is open to all seniors planning entrance into graduate school.

The test will be given on Saturday, November 16, however all applications for the test must be submitted by November 1.

The test, which is in two parts, consists of an aptitude test and a comprehensive examination over the students major field.

The cost for the examination is $7 for the aptitude portion and $8 for the examination over the major field. Students are advised that if both tests are taken and paid for at the same time a flat fee of $12 will be given instead of the regular $15.

The Graduate Record Examination is required by the University of Omaha for students planning on entering the Graduate School upon completing undergraduate work.

The examination is given throughout the United States each year and is required by most colleges and universities.

Students interested in additional information are asked to contact the Graduate Office located in Room 203 Adm.

"The Cave Dwellers" To Be New OU Play

William Saroyan's "The Cave Dwellers" has been selected as the next Omaha University Theater production.

The cast has been chosen to portray the group of destitute actors driven by the depression to inhabit an abandoned theater.

Those selected were:

The girl, Nancy Schneiderwind; Duke, Bob Hoffman; the queen, Merle Reiff; the king, Fred Elsasser; the young opponent, Mark Hallgren; a woman with a dog, Florence Eisenberg; a young man, Kenny Ploss; the young queen, Cheryl Shields; the father, Johnny Gomez; Gorke, Bob Crewdson; the mother, Pamela Frykholm; the silent boy, Bill Overholser; Jamie, Gary Durbin.

Mike Ward will be Student Director. The play is scheduled to run November 21, 22, and 23.

On the campus we often see twins . . . siblings, too are common, but, father and son combinations are rare. An exception, here on the campus of Omaha University, is S. Arthur and Stuart C. Lynn.

The senior Lynn, Arthur, is a bespectacled gent, who discovered America 400 years after Columbus. Sixteen years older than Omaha University, Mr. Lynn is a native of the city.

Mr. Lynn retired in March, after 37 years with a local coffee firm. He was on the road as a salesman when the highways were still trails and Henry Ford was competing with the old gray mare. In 1948, he left the sales area and moved into more sedate work as an office manager. His last formal schooling was a one year stint in Central High during the fall and spring of 1906-07.

In 1961, Mr. Lynn was tested by the University of Omaha and was awarded his High School diploma. He enrolled in OU last summer and hopes to graduate in 1967. As a freshman, Mr. Lynn at 71, declined to join a fraternity because of possible domestic problems. Mrs. Lynn, it seems, is afraid of the Sorority competition. So far the elder Lynn has not decided on a major, but it's a good bet it may be Philosophy.

The younger Lynn, Stuart, was born in 1909. He graduated from Central High in 1927 and joined the Army as a Paratrooper. Discharged in Germany in 1960, he traveled in Europe for three months before returning to the States. He entered OU in 1961, majored in Military Science and will receive his B.S. in January. S. Arthur Lynn, the elder, armed with his student activity card, will proudly view the proceedings.

Blood Drive . . . . .

Red Cross workers will serve coffee and donuts to all those donating.

Last year the OU drive netted 107 pints. Chairman Gary Meester said that he hopes this year's drive will land at least 150 pints.

Meester emphasized that those who fail to get a specific time to give blood may still get in on Wednesday with no trouble.

Prospective donors are asked to refrain from all alcoholic beverages for 24 hours before donation time. Any other food or drink is permissible.

The application booth will be manned by representatives of several organizations so that charges of "rigging" the credits will not arise.

Queen For A Day's Jack Bailey Appears On OU Closed Circuit TV

GATEWAY editor Dick Fletcher interviews television personality Jack Bailey.

Over 200 students welcomed Jack Bailey, master of ceremonies of the network television show "Queen For A Day", to Omaha University via closed circuit television last week.

Bailey was the special guest of the Radio-TV Department for a 15 minute interview shortly after his one hour show ended at 3 p.m.

After introducing Bailey to the students in room 312 of the Student Center, Omaha University President Milo Bail introduced Bailey to Dick Fletcher, a senior in journalism and interviewer for the program.

Large Showing

Fletcher asked Bailey how the Omaha show compared with former "Queen For A Day" shows. Bailey said that he was overwhelmed by the turnout of housewives to the five day shows at the Auditorium. At the end of the week long show over 40,000 ladies turned out, thus making Omaha the second largest attended show in 18 years on the air.

Honor Plaque

Near the close of the show, student Dee Sandvig, Miss Omaha of 1963 and one of the shows' five models, presented Jack Bailey with a plaque from the Alpha Xi Delta Social Sorority. Miss Sandvig said that in as much as he and the sorority are dedicated to the understanding of people, one should not be without the other.

After the close of the interview, Bailey, the shows president Bob Temple and the shows vice-president, Harry Mynatt went to the Ouampi Room for coffee. While there Bailey talked to several students.

Bailey said that this was the first time he has ever sat down and talked to college students.

Father Noonan Talks At Newman Meeting

The Newman Club will hold a business meeting Sunday, Sept. 20, at 6:30 p.m. in St. Margaret Mary's Church basement. All Catholic students are urged to attend.

Father Gerald Noonan will deliver the second in a series of lectures entitled "Science vs Religion." The lectures are designed to help the Catholic student understand his position as student and his potential vocation.

The Student Education Association is having a 'get acquainted hour' on Friday, Oct. 18 at 3:30 p.m. in SC Rooms 312 A and B.

All students in education are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served and materials given out.

Future meetings of the University's largest organization will be held on Wednesday as in the past.

Greek Notices

Birtie Pechous of Zeta Tau Alpha is the new president of Junior Panhellenic Council.

Cathy Lautenschlager of Sigma Kappa is the vice-president, and Kristy Isaacson of Chi Omega is the Secretary. Candy May of Alpha Xi Delta handles the treasurer's job.

Representing the sororities are Laurie Albers, Zeta Tau Alpha; Rita Sorum, Sigma Kappa; Susan Dean, Chi Omega; and Hilde Walter, Alpha Xi Delta.

Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity will have its exchange with Sigma Kappa tonight at Miller Park. A combo will entertain.

Three exchanges have seen the selections of Chi Omega Knights in the last two weeks.

Larry Hammer of Sigma Phi Epsilon was honored at the October 5 function, and Jack Mielke was chosen at the Lambda Chi Alpha exchange October 11. Theta Chi's Bill Miller was knighted October 12.

The Knights are selected from each fraternity on campus by the active chapter of Chi Omega, on the basis of what each has done for the sorority.

Alpha Xi Delta and Theta Chi will hold an exchange at 7:30 tonight at Hanscom Park pavilion. The theme for the function is a Halloween costume party.

The pledges of Zeta Tau Alpha attended church together last Sunday. The Catholics went to Mass at St. Margaret Mary's and the Protestants went to First Methodist Church.

After services, they met for breakfast at a pancake house.

Mary Beth Meyers, pledge trainer, was in charge of the arrangements.

Pam Adams was named Lambda Chi Alpha "Surfer Girl" at the Chi Omega-Lambda Chi exchange Friday, Oct. 11. The theme of the exchange was a beach party.

Tea Planned For Omaha Teachers

The College of Education will hold a tea next Wed. in the SC ballroom. The event is slated to begin at 3:45 p.m.

The tea is for the Co-operating Teachers of Omaha. Those also attending will be the student teachers, the College of Education faculty, Dr. Milo Bail, Dr. I. H. Gorman and the members of Alpha Xi Delta sorority.

The sorority will provide the entertainment for the event. The girls will sing "Greenfields" and "Singin' Low," the two songs they sang at the Sig Ep Sing.

Approximately 150 student teachers and 200 public and parochial school teachers from Omaha, District 66, Bellevue and Council Bluffs are enrolled in this program.

Young Republicans Gather Next Week

Young Republicans will hold their first meeting Oct. 22 in the SC.

The meeting will also be attended by the Conservative Club and Youth for Goldwater members.

Anyone with any questions should contact Art Andersen or Gary Meester.

Bus. Frat Aids UCS; Elects New Officers

Delta Sigma Pi, professional fraternity, conducted a drive on Oct. 16 to raise money for UCS.

Pledge officers for the fraternity were elected at a meeting last Friday. They are William Gibson, president; Roger Watkins, vice-president; and Henry Hibbeler, secretary-treasurer.

Kruntorad And Slaughter Reign As Typical Frosh

1963 Typical Freshmen, JoAnn Kruntorad, Alpha Xi Delta and Doug Slaughter, Pi Kapa Alpha.

JoAnn Kruntorad and Doug Slaughter were named Typical Freshman at the annual dance Wednesday afternoon in the SC Ballroom.

JoAnn and Doug were selected by an all-freshman vote on Oct. 16. They topped 13 other candidates. 724 ballots were cast in the first election of the year.

A spring graduate of Archbishop Ryan High School, JoAnn was active in numerous activities. She served as secretary of the Art Club and Latin Club and was a member of the Senior Board. JoAnn was named to National Honor Society and was active in pep clubs.

Serving as vice-president of the Alpha Xi Delta pledge class, JoAnn is active in Indiannes, Newman Club, Art Club and WRA at Omaha U.

Doug participated in football, basketball, baseball and gymnastics at Benson High for four years. He was the 1963 King of Sports and a member of National Honor Society. Doug's class members elected him vice-president of his senior class. The Pi Kappa Alpha pledge is majoring in mathematics.

Others running for typical freshman girl were Pam Adams, Chi Omega; Mary Jo Brandt, unaffiliated; Sandy Catania, Zeta Tau Alpha; Leslie Forbes, ISA; and Cathy Lautenschlager, Sigma Kappa.

Fellows running for typical freshman boy were Tom Allen, Theta Chi; Dave Baden, ISA; Joe Beninato, Lambda Chi Alpha; and Jim Boe, Delta Rho Gamma. Concluding the list are Steve Boguchwal, Alpha Epsilon Pi; Russ Clarke, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Jim Ecklund, Tau Kappa Epsilon; and Phil Schlueter, unaffiliated.

Waokiya Is Seeking All Foreign Students

Members of Waokiya, women's scholastic honorary, would like to meet all foreign students attending Omaha U.

These people are requested to turn their names into Dean Elizabeth Hill. Dean Hill's office is in the Dean of Student's office in Adm. Room 240. She is in the SC Student Activities office in the afternoon.

Waokiya Sponsors Annual Mum Sale

Waokiya, Senior Women's Leadership and Scholastic Honorary, will hold its annual Mum Sale in connection with Homecoming Activities October 24 through November 1.

Revived Indians Smash Ft. Hays

39-6 Win Over Tigers Opens OU Quest For Repeat of CIC Crown

By Ken McEwen

It was a revived gang of Omaha Indians that last Saturday night stunned Fort Hays State of Kansas 39-6. The Indians were avenging a tie with the Hays crew in '62 that gave OU their only blemish in the CIC.

But this year Big Red came on hard wasting no time in scoring, and didn't have to worry about coming from behind as was the story last year.

Aware of the CIC title defense, the Indians tallied in the first quarter after a 64 yard drive. Gerry Allen began the drive with a 31 yard dash from scrimmage after Hays was force to punt, Jim Kettle, Carl Meyers, and Wayne Backes also highlighted that initial drive. From the Hays 17 Meyers spotted Kettle in the open and fired a pass which Kettle snared and took in from the five. Meyers' conversion was successful for a 7-0 lead.

Indians Move Steadily

Marlin Briscoe, in for Meyers near the close of the first period, sprang Roger Sayers on an option for 30 yards during a push that originated on the OU two. The Indians had drove steadily in this effort but were unable to score before the first period ended.

It took OU only 24 seconds to score in the second quarter. It was Jim Jones who intercepted a Hays pass and scampered the twenty yards to the goal. An attempt at the extra point saw a bad snap from center. Reserve quarterback Briscoe, holding for Meyers didn't give up as he picked up the loose ball and scooted right end for the punt after.

The lone touchdown for Hays was piloted by quarterback Max VanLaningham. After helping take the ball close to paydirt, he called a keep and took it in from the five. A second try for the conversion was made possible when OU was penalized. But it was to no avail as Kettle broke through the line to block the kick.

Defense Clicks

The remainder of the half bore on with neither team scoring. Outstanding defensive efforts by the bulk of the Red line stymied the Tigers enough to keep them from even threatening. Gun shy of what a passer can do if given time to throw the line rushed strong and nailed the Hays backs for considerable losses.

During the half time, 7,800 fans watched a band day ceremony while the Omaha squad was being keyed for an even bigger second half.

OU took the opening kick-off and marched steadily for sixty yards to the goal. It was Sayers, Backes and Allen contributing big carries during the jaunt. Meyers let Allen try for the TD after Allen had brought the ball in close, but it was Backes who finally carried over from the five on a plunge. Meyers once again added the extra point and it was 21-6 early in the third period.

After an exchange of the ball, the Tigers were forced to punt to the OU 48. Meyers and Kettle combined once again to the Hays 36. Allen carried to the 20 and then Meyers kept to take it to the 10. The "Rocket" Sayers took it up close. Then with a third and goal, Allen was called upon and fought his way over from the one. Meyers lethal toe failed this time and it was a 27-6 count at the end of the third period.

Backes and Allen added 20 yard sprints each, the next time OU had the ball during a drive that totaled 60 yards. The now famous Backes plunge was called upon again to pick up the two yards for the touchdown with 7:19 left to play.

With 1:42 left on the clock, an offensive debut of Freshman Terry Williams proved productive. Williams showed his heels for 51 yards to the goal-line. Junior Joe Benson engineered the play. Benson and Williams showed brightly during their few brief minutes of play near the close of the game.

Penalties Hurt

The sad part of the evening was the penalties assessed to OU. Although not bothered by quick whistles and the likes that hurt against Northern Illinois, Red still managed to take 91 yards in punishment. Major penalties accounted for 60 of these yards.

Sayers was the leading rusher of the game with 116 yards in 15 carries. Allen and Backes both carried 16 times for totals of 114 and 91 yards respectively. Much of the yardage would have to be co-claimed by the Indian forward wall who opened gaping holes and broke open the backs on many occasions. The defense, likewise deserve credit for holding the Tigers to only 132 yards rushing. The Hays team was only able to gain 53 yards during the first half. Rushing the passer and coverage by the secondary told the story as Hays failed to complete a pass.

Emporia Next Foe

by Mike Moran

Fresh from the 39-6 stampede over Fort Hays, OU seeks its second straight. CIC win tomorrow in a 2 o'clock game with the Emporia State Hornets at Emporia.

The game will be the third straight Band Day attraction for the Indians on the road and will make the third straight sellout crowd that they have played to. The Indians lost to Northern Illinois before 8,000 at DeKalb and whipped Hays with 7,800 looking on.

The Hornets are not to be taken lightly despite a so-so record to date. The Kansans lost to Omaha, 33-7 last year and have virtually the same cast back from its 3-5-1 club.

The Hornets have a speedy halfback in Reuben Early, who rushed for over 100 yards against OU last year and they also have the league's leading passer in 1962 in Don Wrench.

Wrench has proved that he's still up to his old tricks while passing for good gains this year in Emporia's wins over Southern Colorado State and Southwestern of Kansas.

Besides Wrench, who passed for over 12 yards a game last season, other key performers for the Hornets are Bill Eikermann, All-CIC defensive end and Bruce Prall, All-CIC defensive lineman. The Kansans have 18 returning lettermen.

Emporia, while a power year in and year out in basketball, is not such a terror in football. Coach Keith Kaywood's charges have won only 19 games in the last seven years.

Indians in Shape

Omaha will be ready physically for the game with only quarterback Marlin Briscoe doubtful. Briscoe has a hip bruise but trainers say he will probably see some action.

Play of several men drew compliments from coaches in the Fort Hays game. Outstanding in the line were Willard Sheppard, making his first start at guard, and offensive tackle Dave Rak. OU's big men, including Jack Petersen and the Kadow boys, spent most of the evening terrorizing the Tiger backs.

OU's running game was devastating. Gerry Allen collected 114 yards, Roger Sayers netted 116 and Wayne Backes collected 91 as the Indians rolled to 412 yards on the ground for their finest performance in many years, total wise.

Coach Caniglia praised freshman Terry Williams on his 51 yard touchdown spurt. He added that Williams will probably see more spot duty as the season progresses.

The only complaint of coaches was the inability of the Indians to stay away from the costly 15 yard penalties. The Indians will have to stay away from them against Emporia if they are to keep the ground attack in high gear.

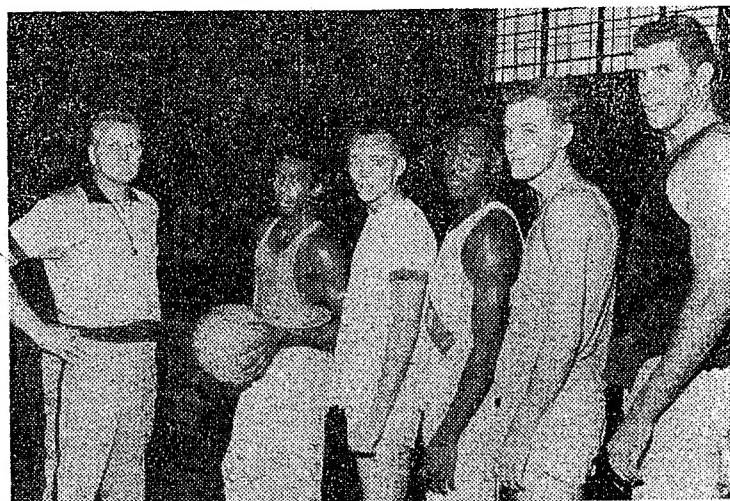

The game will be OU's annual Migration Day and 200 students or more are expected to make the trip plus the cheerleaders, band and the Indianes.

Borsheim Is "Optimistic" As Cage Practice Starts

by Dennis French

An air of cautious optimism was displayed by OU basketball coach Jim Borsheim, as he spoke of the coming season. Practice started Tuesday with 22 hopefuls running through fundamentals, shooting and basic patterns. "With all of our young ball players we might have some rough going throughout the first few games but we should surprise our opponents before the season is over."

Freshman Best Yet

Coach Borsheim believes this crop of freshman ball players to be the best during his tenure as basketball coach. Only six upper classmen reported for team tryouts when the first basketball meeting was held on Monday. Add footballers Marlin Briscoe, Duane McAndrews, and Gary Neumann to the current list of men trying out for the team and you have the twenty-five hopefuls for this season's team. Borsheim intends to keep only 15 men on this year's team with 12 on the traveling squad and no freshman team. He feels that the freshmen will gain the needed experience playing against the varsity.

Pittsburg, Emporia, and the run-and-shoot team from Ft. Hays should offer the greatest opposition in the conference this year. All three teams are staffed with veterans and Ft. Hays has added some tough junior college transfers to their roster. The rest of the conference members boast more veterans than the Indian's and will offer stiff opposition to the Indians' improving on last season's record.

Rockhurst Toughest?

Other tough teams meeting the Indians are: Doane College and Hastings College, co-favorites to win the Nebraska College Conference, Northeast Missouri, a team which placed second in the MIAA last year and is favored to win this year, and St. Benedict's, a school which gave up football last year and is pouring the majority of its athletic fund into the basketball team. One of the strongest teams to face the Indians this year should be Rockhurst College which fought its way into the final round of the NAIA tournament last season and lost few of '62's team members.

Opener Against Simpson

The Indians play ten home games this year and ten on the road plus the Christmas Tournament at Hastings on December 26, 27, and 28. Simpson College provides the opposition in the Indian's home opener on November 30. The Indians open their road schedule at Sioux City on December 6, when they face the always dangerous quintet from Morningside College. Conference play starts at Pittsburg, Kansas, on December 14, when the Indians travel to meet the all veteran Pittsburg five.

Hopefuls who reported to the team meeting Monday were:

Harriers Take First Two Meets

"Determination. Guts. Call it what you want but these boys really have it."

These were the words of cross country coach Lloyd Cardwell as he expressed his feelings over his harriers 26-33 win over the University of South Dakota on Tuesday.

"They're really working hard, they're a well knit team. In every meet they work towards a team win instead of an individual effort," Cardwell said.

The Harriers recorded their second victory in as many starts as freshman led the way. Ken Gould finished second to USD's Dave Peterson with a time of 16:17 over the three-mile South Dakota course. Freshman Pat Giddings and Gerry Shook took fourth and fifth respectively.

A trio of unheralded freshmen plus two veterans helped pace the Indian cross country team to a 23-32 win over Peru on October 11.

Ken Gould ran the hilly two and a half mile Peru course in 13:08 to take first place. Jerry Shook and Pat Giddings ran fourth and fifth with times of 13:55 and 14:02 respectively.

The Indians took five out of the first seven places with veterans Loren Drum finishing sixth and Herb Rhodes seventh.

The Harriers will play host to Midland today at 4:00 p.m. over the three-mile Elmwood Park course.

Norm Nagranski (c) Gretchel Smith (d) none of these

1. None — Actually it was designed for chess, when you're in a checkmate, you drop back five yards and punt it.
2. Alan A. Corrupt—Though he never signed a professional contract after he graduated in 1932 he was still receiving money concerning a point shaving bribe for 1930's Homecoming game.
3. False—He used to be the rifle team coach until one day he was adjusting a target, and . . .
4. Alan A. Corrupt pioneered OU's entrance into the league as an alumnus in 1933, because he wanted to have OU sports remain wholesome, clean, and on the up and up.
5. None of these—It's really a ground squirrel that lives in Elmwood park and is the reincarnated spirit of Alan A. Corrupt.
6. None of these—Ralph Detroit (now famous coach at Valley High).
7. (Hopalong) Hogan—in one lunch hour she scooted end of the room for three cheesburgers and one white milk, intercepted two french-fried onions and passed for six complete dill pickles for a total of being on probation.
8. None of these—Actually it's a form of girl watching that originated when P.E. uniforms were introduced on OU's campus.
9. Norman Nagranski—who in 1948 actually chugged 43 bottles. This was strawberry soda, of course.

Miloni, Player To Back Coach

By Larry Porter

Omaha University football fans watched as Louie Miloni developed in the past four years into one of the greatest halfbacks in OU history.

This year Louie has joined the fans on the sidelines, but he holds more than a casual interest in the team. Louie is the new assistant backfield coach of the Indians.

"I've always wanted to be a coach," said Louie. "It's been my life-long dream."

"It's a little unusual to come back and coach a team that you played with the year previously. I and many of the guys I'm now coaching went through quite a bit together last year. I feel that we were in the same shoes; so, it's tough at times to bear down on them."

This is the first year since Louie was old enough to hold a football that he hasn't played. "Sometimes I feel pretty miserable watching the team play, knowing that I won't ever play football again," Louie said. "I get a feeling that I've lost something."

"But I knew it had to come to an end sometime," he continued. "Now I have an opportunity to pass on to others what I have learned."

Louie still needs eight hours to complete his degree in physical education. He is due to graduate in January but his plans for the future are still cloudy.

If he isn't coaching at OU next year, Louie hopes to coach at an Omaha area high school. He is gaining experience in the Omaha school system this semester while student teaching at Westside.

Intramural Football Reaches Halfway Mark; Bootstrappers Lead in Bowling

Pi Kap Rich Tomsett makes futile attempt to evade Bootstrap defencesmen, in a Monday afternoon intramural game.

At the halfway point in '63 Intramural Football competition, two teams remain with unblemished records.

With impressive victories last week over Theta Chi 48-0 and Sig Eps 33-0, the Zeke Moe Joes are 7-0. Competition last week saw the Darts take victories from the Scatbacks and TKE on their way to a 4-0 mark.

Sig Ep hangs onto third position with a 4-1 record. A crucial contest was slated for yesterday (Thursday) after this paper went to press. That game, between the Sig Eps and Pi Kaps would determine a possible Champion in Interfraternity competition. After October 14

Sig Ep held top spot in the Interfraternity league at 3-0, Pi Kap was 2-0.

Anyone wishing to enter a basketball team for the coming campaign MUST have the teams reported in the Intramural office by November 1.

The intramural one-mile team race will be held October 25 on the OU track at 4:30. Last year's run was won by the Sig Eps in record time.

All students interested may play table tennis in the Women's PE hut on Thursday evenings.

Archery

Two independent teams dominated the first day of archery competition held last Friday. Independent No. 1 composed of John Bennett and Doug Powell totaled 1282 points. Tom Hegley and Bob Poindexter of Independent No. 2 tallied 1054. Both teams are well ahead of their closest competitor Theta Chi with a 757 score.

John Bennett was high individual man with 760. The second of three shoots is scheduled for this afternoon with the finale coming next Friday.

Bowling

After the third week of Bowling at West Lanes on Wednesday afternoons Botstrappers No. 1 have topped 6354 pins on their way to a 11-1 record and first place.

Generally noted for their bowling prowess, Lambda Chi is second with 6235 pins and 10-2 but TKE holds a 10-2 also and a 6373 pin tally.

Johnny Gomez of Lambda Chi continues to hang onto the high individual series with a 659.

Crum Handles Defense Spot Admirably

By Jim Gember

How many people watching a football game pay attention to any of the unheralded defensive halfbacks in action?

Sure the George Borks, Roger Staubachs and George Miras make all the spectacular plays but what about the guys guarding against these great players and their receivers? In short, a defensive halfback's job is never done. He has to be a jack of all trades. He must watch out for the long "bomb" or touch-down play, the short pass, the screen pass, and the many backs like Sayers who, once they see daylight, are long gone. He has to know how to tackle, how to defend against passes and how to run on interceptions.

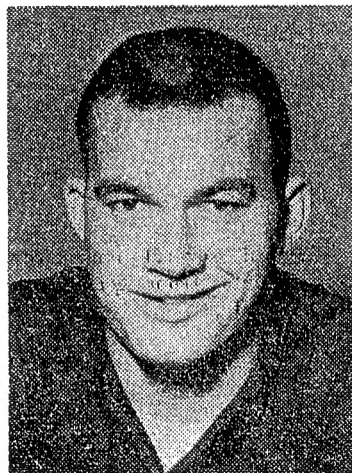

In Don Crum, OU has a one year veteran at the defensive left halfback post who can do all these and more. Crum, who doubles as an offensive halfback, has intercepted two passes this year as against five last year.

When asked about the 18-7 defeat by Northern Illinois he related that "George Bork is a tremendous passer and one of the most accurate I've ever seen. However his receivers make him look even better. Their big end (Hugh Rohrschneider) is one of the finest ends I've had to defend against."

Don, a six foot 185 lb. sophomore majoring in Physical Education, is a graduate of South High School. He lettered three times each in football, basketball and baseball at South. After graduating he plans to be a high school coach.

With his brother Larry, a 5'9" 203 lb. freshman fullback, they form another brother act such as the Kadow twins did last year when they helped spark the football team to a league title and a bowl conquest.

Don said his greatest thrill and possibly the team's toughest game in the last two years was the All-Sports Bowl triumph over East Central Oklahoma last December.

Louie Miloni, former halfback and now the assistant backfield coach of the Indians, ranks second on OU's all-time rushing list.

Miloni amassed 2,059 yards during his four year career. Bill Englehart, 1955 Tanager Bowl great, heads the list.

For the girl who's got almost everything

This latest creation by the House of Valjean marks a radical departure from the traditional line of accessories for m'lady. Done in chic, ultra-conservative white, the material falls in natural, classic lines. Mr. Valjean readily admits that this fashion first restricts activity. It was, he says with a charming Gallic shrug, designed to do just that. According to Jean, the girl who really has everything must, of course, have a savings account at the U.S. National. Because she does, she has no need for M. Valjean's accessory—she can afford a complete wardrobe of the latest fall fashions. Her hard-earned savings are not only safe, but growing day by day with instant interest. His item, he explained, is specifically designed for the girl who has everything but a U.S. National savings account. Tears welled in his eyes as he considered her plight—chic fashions in every window—frustration in every newspaper. We agreed that it was more than even the strongest resolve could withstand. “But,” says Valjean, “ees simple!” She dons his creation and “Voila!”—no more frustration. After the show, idle curiosity led us to ask Jean what he called his new and functional accessory. With a scornful look, he replied, “Quel question! I call eet a blindfold—what else!”
